

“Imagine a holistic system where ‘justice’ was ‘re-vised’ around people and the needs caused by injustice. Imagine a country where restorative justice values shaped our way of life. What would that look like? What would you do to make that happen?”

“re-visioning justice”

INTERNATIONAL RESTORATIVE JUSTICE WEEK 2011 RESTORATIVE JUSTICE COLLOQUIUM

This year's theme, “Re-visioning Justice”, implores all of us to envisage how a restorative justice approach can be applied and implemented within existing systems. It is a challenge to health care, education, social, criminal and environmental justice, correctional services, the workplace and all other systems and/or levels of government, to be creative and innovative in looking at “justice” through a restorative justice lens.

You are cordially invited to join us in “re-visioning’ justice” in South Africa.

The UNISA Department of Criminology and Security Science, in collaboration with Khulisa Social Solutions will be hosting a colloquium during International Restorative Justice Week 2011.

The aim of this event is to bring stakeholders and role-players together, to review and reconsider justice.

GUEST SPEAKERS:

DR. MARTIN WRIGHT - Visiting international authority and writer of restorative justice from the United Kingdom will speak on his preliminary comparative findings regarding restorative practices in the UK and South Africa.

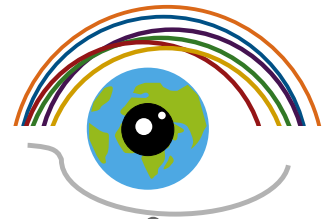

DR. HEMA HARGOVAN - Community Programme - University of Kwa Zulu Natal will speak on: Restorative Approaches to Justice - Highlights and Challenges of Multi-site Implementation and Evaluation.

TIME: 09H00-13h00
VENUE: Senate Hall, UNISA
DATE: Tuesday, November 22nd, 2011
